

Take a Look at Her Mom

Topher Gayle

There's an old man at the bar over there. He's seen it all, I think. He likes to give advice. He thinks he knows a lot about women, and he likes to make sure you do too. He's been married two, three, four, ... I don't know, five, six times. Anyway, I was sitting there, having a beer, getting all kinds of advice. I was learning from the master. But he did say one thing that makes an awful lot of sense, and I thought I'd pass it along, especially to you young fellows out there.

The first gal I called honey, she was as pretty as she could be
She had lots and lots of money, sweet as sugar to me
I wanted to marry that woman, you know she went right to my head
I was about to pop the question, but I remembered what he said

Before you marry that woman, take a look at her mom
Take a look into the future, at what she might become

Well I went to meet her family, you know they treated me mighty fine
Her daddy gave me brandy, her brothers gave me wine
I was feelin' pretty happy, I was getting' kinda high
When they trotted out her mommy, she was ugly, my oh my!

Before you marry that woman, Take a look at her mom
Take a look into the future, at what she might become

The next gal looked so good, you know I had to ask her out
I got her in the mood, 'cause that's what it's all about
So I went to meet her family, what a pretty mom she had!
I asked her if she'd marry me, she said "No way, I saw your dad!"

Before you marry that FELLA, get a look at his DAD
Take a look into the future, cause it might be kinda bad

Before you marry that woman, take a look at her mom
Take a look into the future, at what she might become